Absent: D. Cox, F. Gouldin, J. Herrera, J. Hopcroft, J. Jenkins, M. Miller, S. Sass, F. Wise, S. Youra

Ex-Officio: K. Athreya, B. East, M. Fish, D. Maloney-Hahn, T. Healey, F. Shumway

Others: J. Burns, C. Pakkala, R. Springall

Approval of Minutes: The minutes of February 25th were approved as written.

Undergraduate Announcements: D. Maloney-Hahn (Advising) announced that Krishna Athreya was replacing Michele Fish as Director of Women’s Programs in Engineering. F. Shumway (Advising) asked faculty to review the list of Sophomore and Junior Affiliates that she handed out and to let her know of any changes that need to be made.

Proposed Math Curriculum Changes: T. Healey (Assoc. Dean) stated that several of the Math 193 instructors have reservations about abolishing 2 separate sub-courses. He suggested that perhaps the 191 and 193 instructors could meet to discuss what to do with 191. J. Burns (T&AM) stated that the instructors approve of 192, 293 and 294. P. Kintner (ECE) emphasized that a written motion is needed with a formal vote in order to approve the changes. He requested that a formal report be submitted in the next week or two.

Transfer Student Updates: B. East (Admissions) stated that the number of transfer students has been maintained. The entire transfer process has been streamlined, with the workloads being taken off of the fields and put on the admissions staff. R. Springall (Admissions) handed out a form titled Changes to Transfer Credit Evaluation which discussed the way Admissions is handling transfer credits. According to his research, Cornell is the only institution which doesn’t provide a tentative credit award listing to transfer students. As Advising and Admissions are now handling transfer credit equivalencies, the students will have a chance to become more comfortable with those offices. D. Maloney-Hahn (Advising) met with the field coordinators about this process, and they are happy with it because it adds consistency and helps the fields out. The process also helps students make more intelligent choices with the target college. P. Kintner (ECE) requested that the fields have the chance to flag courses they do not feel comfortable with having Admissions or Advising evaluate. B. East stated that courses could be flagged, and that the CCGB faculty should check with each of their field coordinators to discuss the way they want the process to be handled.

The meeting adjourned at 8:20 a.m.
